Dedication to . . . .

Nevada

Fremont Street

Centennial

It was just a hundred short years ago that Congress admitted Nevada into the Union. Since this time Nevada has progressed into one of the best states in the United States.

The Story of Nevada begins on October 31, 1864. Nevada was little more than a pile of Sagebrush speckled by temporary towns surrounding gold and silver mines.

Many of these towns flourished with the mining and grew into large cities only to crumble and become ghost towns as the ore supply was exhausted. Others sprang up and lived by ranching, farming, and timber. These are the cities that exist today.

Now, a hundred short years later, in Southern Nevada, tourism is the main industry. Gambling is legal, the climate is fair, and mountains are close. In the north, mining still exists but on a small scale. Farming and ranching are the big industries. Education has progressed with two universities to further learning.

All in all, Nevada has progressed in this century by innumerable achievements to perhaps the greatest state in the Union.

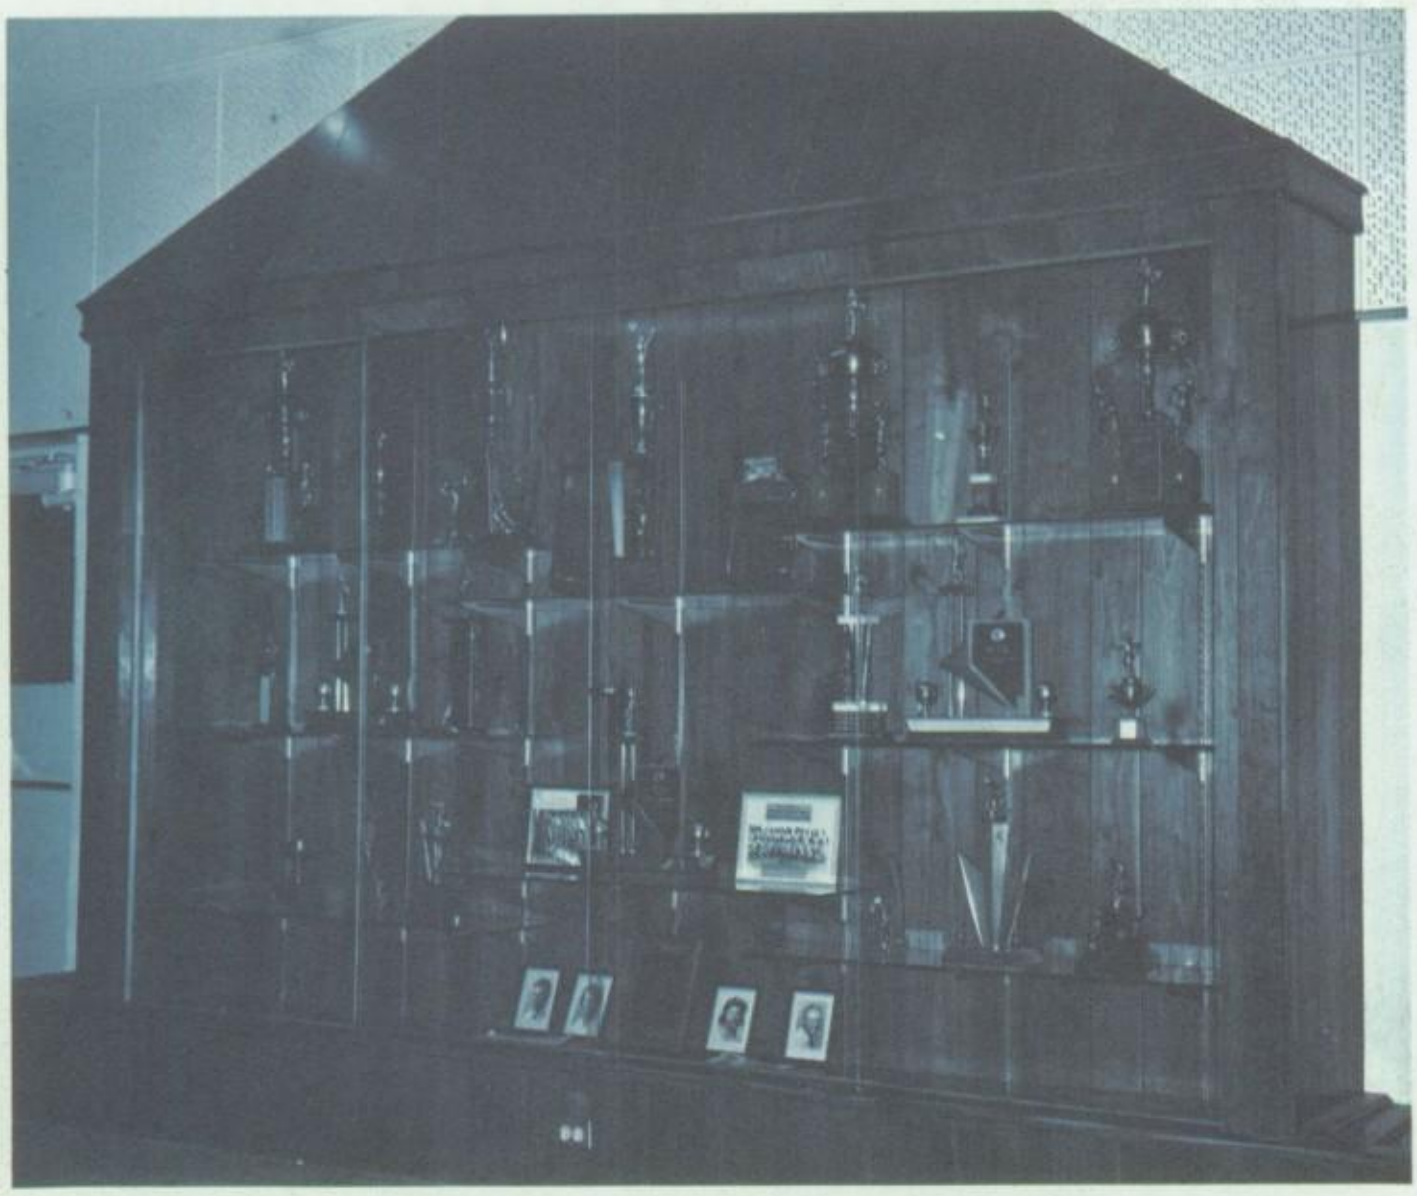
Projects Begun and Finished and . . .



The finished trophy case was a major achievement.

Student actors progressed with better entertainment.

Time is an indefinite object, always changing, always moving, always reaching out into infinity. Time was there when the world began. With time came progress: Wheels, elevators, Disneyland. Each achievement furthered progress, all progress a product of time.

In the short span of 100 years, Nevada has grown into one of the greatest states in the Union. Each individual achievement furthered progress that much more.

Many events marked our progress here at Western. A finished trophy case, a few more trophies, a neon sign, many excellent assemblies, all contributed to the progress of the Western High campus and student body.

Many students are leaving school to attend college or secure jobs, others are merely advancing a grade, but whatever the case may be, the experiences and achievements that have grown out of this past year at Western will never be forgotten.

Through the eyes of the EPITAPH we see this past year as a TIME OF PROGRESS AND ACHIEVEMENT.

Pleasant Memories of a Productive Year

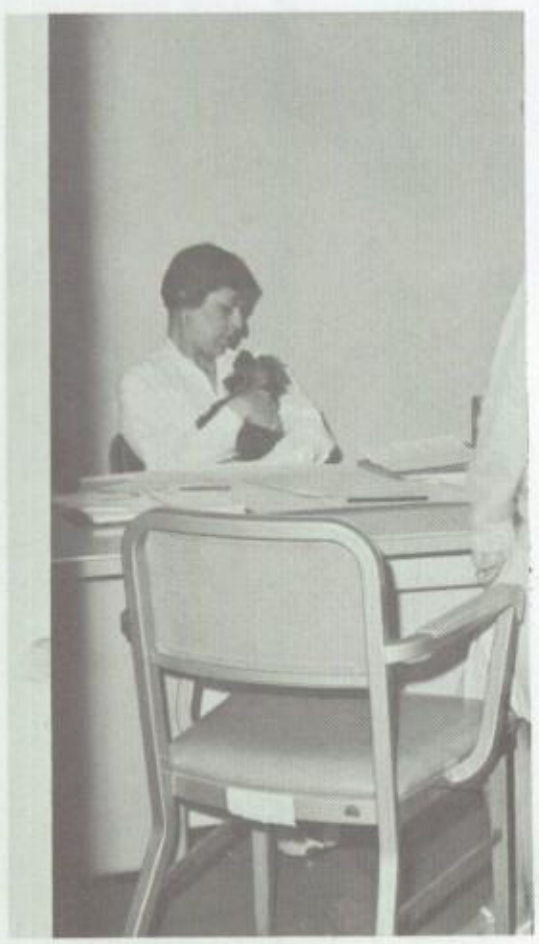
"Ah! Something to beat my husband with!"

"Up periscope"

"Maybe if I stand on the desk they'll pay attention"

"What's in that little red jug?"

"Dang birds!"



"Next time raise your hand before you bark!"

"Ah, peace and quiet between classes"

Mr. Leland Newcomer leads the staff behind the scenes of our school system as County School's Superintendent. The School Board is headed by Chester Sewell. Through the knowledge and experience of these men and their assistants we had full opportunities to enrich our lives through education.

Mr. Harvey Dondero, Assistant Superintendent; Dr. Mervin Wampler, Director of Building Facilities; Dr. Richard Brown, Assistant Superintendent of Personnel; Mr. David Sands, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction; Dr. J. L. Glaspey, Assistant Superintendent of Business.

Headed Western with Devotion and Ability

Mr. Willard Beitz, Principal

Through tremendous tasks and awesome responsibilities he remains calm. Through impossible tasks he smiles and continues. Who is this remarkable man? Mr. Willard Beitz, principal of Nevada's newest and largest high school.

Western is proud of the hard work and supreme devotion of their principal. It is not always easy or pleasant to daily guide the lives of 2300 people and to blend discipline with understanding to make good citizens of tomorrow. Yet, through seemingly impossible tasks, Mr. Beitz takes the responsibilities of his office and makes Western the excellent school it is.

"Whoop! Whoop!"

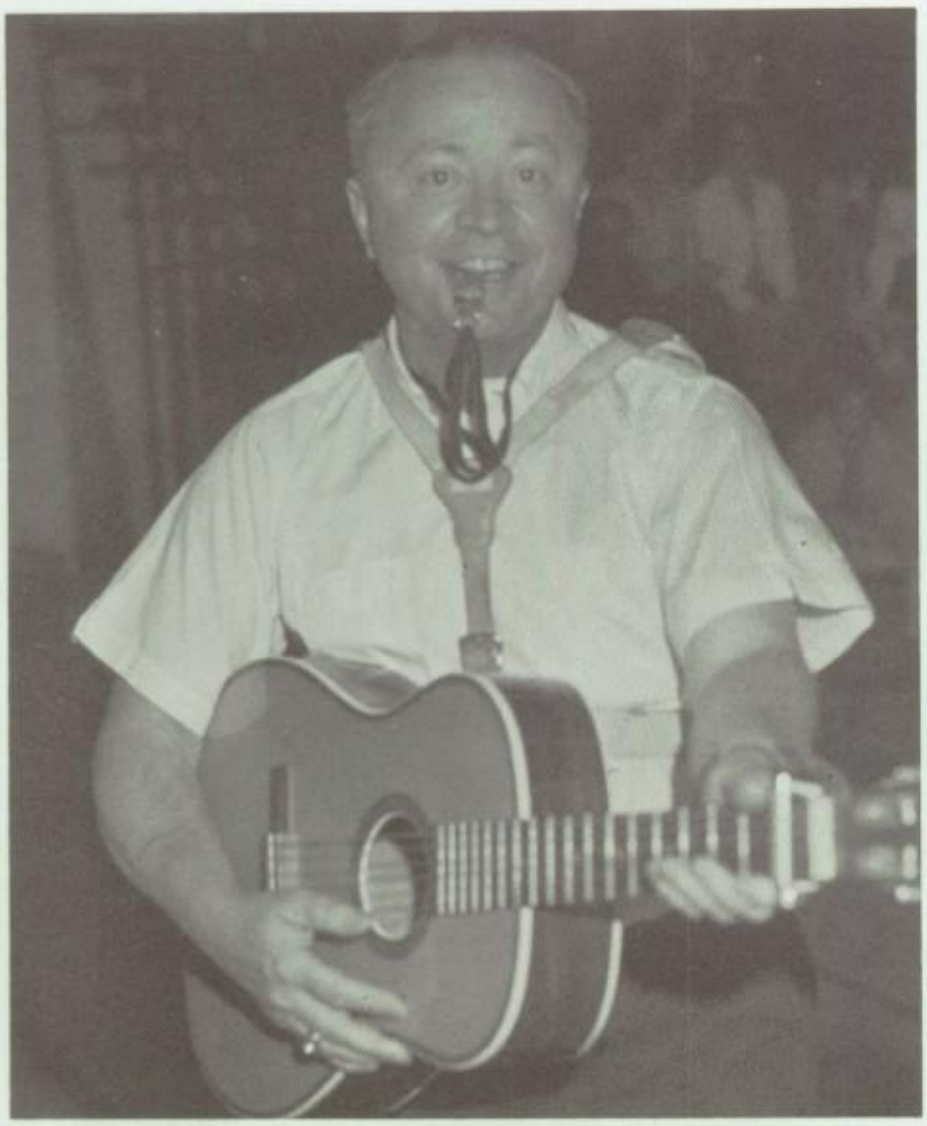
Assistants Worked Towards Achievement

Mr. Angelo Collis
Assistant Principal

Mr. Nils Bayles
Assistant Principal

Student services, curriculum, and activities are handled by three assistant principles this year; Mr. Nils Bayles, Mr. Theron Swainston, and Mr. Angelo Collis. Mr. Bayles is in charge of school services, counselors, attendance, the school nurse, and classroom discipline. Mr. Swainston is new to Western High this year and is the curriculum and instruction manager. He handles school business, department heads, teacher's aids, librarians, library staff, and instruction aid co-ordination. Mr. Collis is in charge of the dances and all other extra curricular activities. These three men have teamed together to make W.H.S. a more efficient campus.



Mr. Collis would rather serenade than referee.

Mr. Theron Swainston
Assistant Principal

Progress Influenced by Capable Counselors

Counselors guide students and help to establish their curriculum during their years at Western. They are assigned to a class for three years, and in this period of time they are able to learn individual abilities and desires. Students are given encouragement to further their education and knowledge that will help them reach their goals.

Urged Appreciation of the Arts

"I wonder if we'll ever have steak?"

Art, music, the yearbook and newspaper. All these are instruments through which our school speaks. These highly skilled teachers, each in their own chosen profession, develop the student's quest for knowledge in various fields.

Everyone of these teachers can indeed be proud of the progress and achievement they have made through devoted student guidance. Each one was set a difficult task to which each responded with enthusiasm and many extra hours of precious time.

Mr. George Moses – MA, John Carroll University, Mathematics

Mrs. Virginia Wolfram – BA, Oklahoma State University, Algebra I, Geometry, Living Things

Mr. William P. Gallinger – MS, Oregon State University, Mathematics

Western's math teachers have opened up a wide and interesting field for the varied students. They have taught students to think clearly and logically, to clarify and organize their ideas, and to perceive solutions to problems with ease. Under these highly skilled teachers, the students learned how to substitute letters for numbers, derive clear, logical theorems, solve quadratic equations and find clear short-cuts to solving difficult problems. They have shown students that math does not deal with numbers alone.

P.E. and Health Stimulated Mind and Body

Physical and mental fitness were taught and practiced in physical education and health classes. Sophomores and Juniors take a semester of health and P.E. both years. Teachers encouraged their students to participate in competitive sports and time was well spent on developing skills in such sports as archery, tennis, basketball, baseball, football, and track. Good sportsmanship was taught to be the most important skill in any sport.

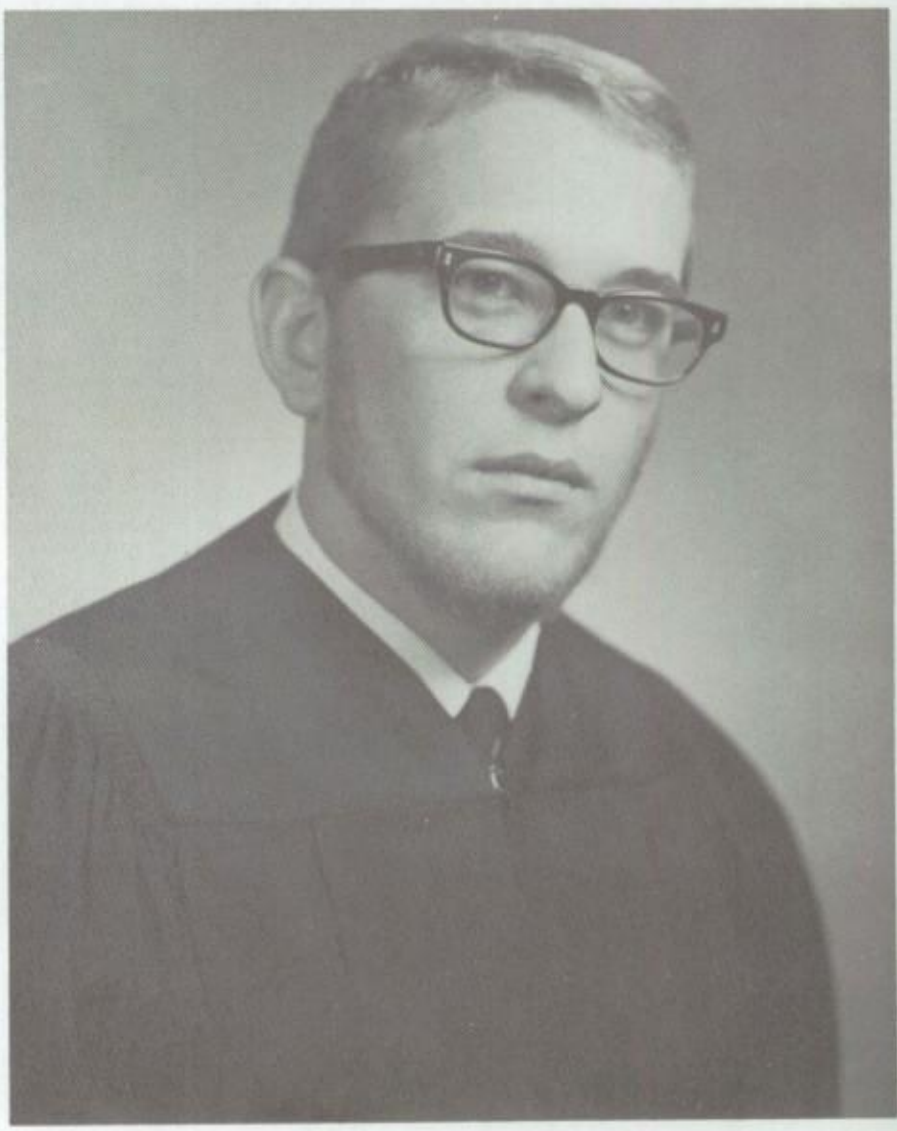
Supreme Court Handed Down Sagacious Rulings



Gerald Earl, Junior Judge

The Student Supreme Court represents an effort of the students to maintain a policy of self-discipline among themselves. This omits the coaxing of students by the school faculty and administration.

The court's five judges are selected by their respective classes and are permited to join their own organization for enforcement of the law.

In its second year of existence, the court has experienced several difficulties throughout the year. The foundation of the tribunal, however, has been well laid and will provide a solid base for its development in future times.

Big Three Committees on Campus

Safety Stickers, homecoming, and important legislation were only a small segment of work completed by the ambitions of three campus organizations.

Among our new traditions this year are homecoming and the Senior girls Powder Puff football game. The Student Council has provided new landscaping and planters, and the Safety Committee's car check has made our campus a safer place to be.

Rallys and Traditions, Student Council, and the Traffic Safety Committee have played an important part in making this another successful year for the Warrior student body.

Assembly, Welcoming Committees Aid Students

Through this ambitious hard working committee, have come our varied and interesting assemblies. In order to coordinate time and people, and to maintain order and interest, a great deal of effort was spent.

Through the patience of three teachers and three students, each of our assemblies has been a success. Topics have varied from pep assemblies to class assemblies to club assemblies, but each has proved refreshing to all.

A handful of spirited students, representing Western at her best, were delegated to welcome new students. As each new student comes to Western, one of these pupils is assigned to him or her. Usually, if possible, this person is in the same class as the new Warrior. When this is done, the two immediately have something in common, for Western students are united through class standing and standards.

The people are helped to understand our rules, where to go for any type of help, and how to find places especially close to their own interests.

Headed by Editor Bill Gang and Advisor Lawrence Bray, the Epitaph staff worked diligently the entire year to compile a record of memories. The theme "Time of Progress and Achievement", gave the book continuity and meaning.

The section heads held most of the responsibilities under their particular section, with the guidance of the editor, who saw that the book was planned and executed.

The staff worked hard in their respective positions and aided one another in order to put out a well-rounded yearbook.

State Assembly Boosted Warriors Spirit

Band also wins honors.

The Varsity cheerleaders along with many others spent time to organize an assembly to boost school spirit before the journey to Reno for the state game.

The Warriors were introduced to the entire student body individually. Cheers were given along with speeches of praise and expectations. The assembly was brought to a close with the singing of our Alma Mater.

WESTERN WAR WHOOP

"WAR WHOOP" HIGHLIGHTS SEVENTEEN EDITIONS

The diligent War Whoop staff met its responsibilities with great enthusiasm. Despite the difficult conditions that periodically arose, the staff never failed to publish an edition as planned and never missed a deadline. This keeps with the great tradition of the War Whoop, a school paper that in three years of existence has never missed a planned edition.

During the year, many special edition papers were distributed. One issue was dedicated to the spectacular pageant of Western's first homecoming. A special eight page color edition was sold out within an hour of distribution just before Christmas vacation. The traditional "raspberry" issue was distributed in April. This special newspaper exhibited the talents of next year's newspaper staff, the Journalism I class.

DEPT. HEADS KEEP BUSY

This year's "War Whoop" editor, Joyce Fox, readily accepted the overwhelming responsibilities of her position. Among her numerous tasks were assigning stories and newsbeats, planning lay-out, and assuming the direct responsibility of producing the paper.

Assisting here in leading the paper staff were Assistant Editor, Diane Abbey; News Editor, Roger Williams; Feature Editor, Terry Leavitt; Senior Editor, Pat Gaffey; Business Manager, Sandra Jackson; and Advertising Manager, Sandra Isom. They aided by organizing the work in their respective areas.

Terry Leavitt, Feature Editor, decided what features were to be used in each edition of the paper.

"All About Seniors" was written by the Senior Editor, Pat Gaffey, to promote interest within the Senior Class.

Sandra Jackson, Business Manager, kept the books for the newspaper and sent out the exchanges.

Sandra Isom, Advertising Manager, was responsible for the ads which appeared in each edition. She billed the advertisers and laid out the ads.

The staff found that there was more to journalism than publishing the War Whoop. The course offered the experiences of creative writing as well as writing news articles. News reporting kept the staff constantly on the alert. No one was more informed than the War Whoop staff.

Two other staff members not pictured on this page played vital roles in the success of this year's staff. Yvonne Miracle and Judy Stanley consistently aided the War Whoop production in many ways. Yvonne could be found daily behind her typewriter efficiently justifying and typing countless articles turned in to her by last minute writers. Judy was a supersaleswoman, no advertising challenge was too difficult for her to handle. The entire staff owes these girls a vote of thanks.

Diane Abbey, Assistant Editor

1964-65 STAFF PRODUCES TWO

Journalism I, the 1964-65 staff, successfully completed two editions of the "War Whoop" with the assistance of members of this year's staff.

The Raspberry edition, distributed on April 10, was the first edition that the future staff produced. This was the issue printed for April Fool's Day.

The second edition was a regular newspaper. It was distributed May 8.

These two papers gave the members of the new staff the opportunity to gain the necessary experience required for producing the best possible "War Whoop" next year.

Alan Widner, Bill Staggs, Sports Editors.

You MUST Be Kidding!

PAPER TRAILS ALL SPORTS EVENTS

The hard-working sports writers followed Western's athletes throughout the school year in all the varied sports. The "War Whoop" trailed the footballers all the way to state game. We lost, but the team is still considered by Western's students the best team in this state or anywhere.

It is the job of the sports department to keep the school informed of our athletic performance. It is to promote school spirit and encourage students to support and participate in athletics within the school.

Many surveys taken by authorities have proven that the sports page is the most widely read page in a school newspaper.

HATS OFF TO ART DEPARTMENT

The art and photography departments have done a great deal of work this year. The rushed photographers have made deadlines by a hair, and deserve much praise for their work. The art department has innovated such things as a new front-page head and sports head, the cartoon strip, "P.S.," and many political and sports cartoons. The artists also made-up many of the ads which appeared in each edition of the paper.

REPORTERS PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE

The "War Whoop" reporters play an important part in the production of the newspaper. They get the news from sources regularly assigned and from news suggestions from Western students. The reporters, through their writing, reflect school life and student reactions. All staff members worked to report the maximum of news possible, though some students specialized in reporting alone. The reporter enables the school newspaper, the "War Whoop" to publicize and support all of Western High School's activities and to give the student body a chance to voice its opinions.

One of the reporters, Charlotte Crawford, also worked as copyreader. She read all the stories that were turned in and helped the writer improve the story before it was printed.

Mr. Lawrence Bray, Advisor.

STAFF THANKS ADVISOR BRAY

Being advisor to the "War Whoop" and the "Epitaph" is a big job. Western could not have found a more dedicated worker for this task. Mr. Lawrence Bray carried the responsibility to see that both this yearbook and the paper deadlines were met throughout the school year.

The staff of the "War Whoop" would like to thank him for all the countless hours he has spent with them after school, the hard times he helped them through in producing 17 editions, and the knowledge in the Journalism field he has taught them.

Wherever the present staff is scattered in the years to follow, a common bond will unite them. This bond is the knowledge we have been taught by the advisor, Mr. Lawrence Bray.

PAT GAFFEY RECEIVES AWARD

Senior Editor, Pat Gaffey, was chosen a national winner in the Quill and Scroll writing contest. He received this honor for the writing of his editorial about a Western High student being refused service at a restaurant. This editorial appeared in the January 31 edition of the "War Whoop."

Varsity Cheerleaders Promoted

School Spirit at Games

Jody Bonnet

Lynn Burns

What a thrill and honor it must be to wear the varsity cheerleading outfit and to start the cheers at every game! These five young spirited cheerleaders are, seniors Tarina Kirkeeng, head cheerleader, Connie Arnoldsen, Lynn Burns, Jody Bonnet, and junior Judy Underhill.

This year these talented girls were awarded a first place trophy in competition against cheerleaders from other schools.

They have all worked hard in their precision and co-ordination to represent W.H.S. at their best.

Susan Carter

Vicki Rhinehart, junior varsity head cheerleader, along with four other chosen girls united voices of spirit during sports events. These peppy five were elected in the fall after competing at an assembly with other sophomore and junior girls for the positions.

They added zest to our assemblies and rallies. Through working with the Varsity cheerleaders they gained experience and proficiency.

Our Agile Mascots

Sue Blakley

Talented Sue Blakley and Bonnie Klein have upheld the fine standard of the Warrior Mascots. During the football and basketball seasons, they were always there representing the Warrior's fighting spirit. It took long hours of practice to perfect their acrobatic acts in co-ordination with one another. Whenever our fight songs or Alma Mater played the mascots really "whooped it up" in colorful harmony.

Girls Glee displayed outstanding enthusiasm, and leadership through their performances. This three part group; alto, second soprano, and soprano performed many places, including on the Las Vegas Strip.

Girls Glee was a select group which was composed of the top choral students who showed willingness to devote extra time in preparing for many professional performances.

The group participated in the fall concert by singing "Grandmother's Thanksgiving". Girls' Glee sang during the spring festival, rating high in the rough competition with other local high schools.

"The Western Warrior Band" this year, under the able direction and leadership of its director, Jack Schwartz, and its presidents, Ron Longhofer and Bob Gipe, gave dazzling displays of musical excellence. At the football games during the fall it gave several shows which entertained everyone and amazed not a few with their technical intricacy. The Pep Band, known as the War Chants provided snappy music and catchy rhythms for the fans at the basketball games. The Concert Band gave its annual Winter Concert and several assemblies, which were large successes. These experiences will remain with the band for years to come.

Alumni Honored at The First Homecoming

The beginning event of Western High's first Homecoming was a skit in which nine angels sought permission from St. Peter (Mr. Collis) to attend the Homecoming activities.

"A Warriors World" was the theme for W.H.S.'s first homecoming. The well-planned, fun-filled weekend began with a pep assembly. Mr. Thompson, Miss Gresky, and Mrs. Hansen, former teachers of Western, surprised students and friends by coming home during a skit given by the A Cappella Choir. Climaxing the weekend was the crowning of Queen Linda Petri—winning the game—and dancing cheek to cheek around the alumni tree.

The Saturday night Homecoming dance was a gala affair enjoyed by the returning alumni as well as the present students.

Hard Work and Imagination

Stars shone brightly to add magic to the evening of October 19, 1963. Linda Petri's dream came true as she was crowned Western's first homecoming queen by Mike Leavitt, student body president. She and her attendants, Denise Kouns and Lynn Burns were escorted to the throne by Lettermen Terry Leavitt, Ken Black, and Brian Karn. Linda graciously reigned over the events that followed, setting a tradition to be treasured in the years to come. At the game's end, our queen presented the sign of victory, a war bonnet, to the Warrior's football co-captains George Kalb and Sam Pizzo. A dance immediately following the game completed a memorable weekend in the Warrior's World.

Queen Linda strolls towards her subjects accompanied by her attendants (Lynn Burns and Denise Kouns). Their escorts were lettermen Brian Karns, Ken Black, and Terry Leavitt.

Western High School's 2nd annual Christmas Assembly was presented to the faculty and student body in the Little Theatre this year. Sharing honors in this assembly were the A Cappella Choir, Girls' Glee, Madrigals, Voice Class, Mixed Chorus, and students in the drama department. The assembly which was given six times throughout the school day showed the fine musicianship that these large organizations have.

The assembly began with the Voice Class, Madrigals and Girls Glee joining together to sing. Ending the assembly, the A Cappella Choir sang Fred Waring's "Song of Christmas". Drama students assisted in presenting Christmas scenes. This assembly was enjoyed and will long be remembered in the memories of those who attended.

This year Western High School's senior girls started a tradition that is hoped to be continued for many years. The girls challenged the senior girls of Las Vegas High School to a powder-puff game of flag-football. The game was played on the Las Vegas High School field, and was a surprisingly rip-roaring event. The Western Squaws added another trophy to the Western trophy case by winning the game, 7 to 6.

Senior Basketball Game Ended in Tie

What a sight! Leave it to the vibrant Senior Class to think of something different — a basketball game between the sexes.

The boys had a small handicap, with one hand tied behind their back, but they put up a good battle, with the overpowering girls.

Armored in the third quarter, with boxing gloves, the girls plowed through the defense of the stalwart boys with gleaming colors. The final score resulted in a 68-68 tie.

WESTERN HIGH'S third musical, Brigadoon, was presented April 29-May 2. Under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, and student directors Janet Baker and Sheila Barrett this Musical was a big success.

It tells the story of two young American men, Tommy and Jeff, who have discovered a whimsical and unmapped village while traveling in Scotland. While in this village, Brigadoon they find that many of its inhabitants should be about 200 years old, but are only in their twenties. The two men are mystified as to how this could possibly happen, but through Tommy's love for one of the inhabitants of the village, Fiona, the truth is brought out.

Sadie Hawkins Day Highlighted School Year

Hi Ya Ellie Mae!

Barefoot girls and bearded boys took over Western's Little Theater for one night, December 14, 1963. Everyone went to the Sadie Hawkins Dance in his Sunday duds.

The gals had a week before the dance to chase and capture their favorite beau. "Marrying Sam" was on hand to lawfully, under Dogpatch law, join a couple in wedlock. The license expired at midnight.

My Pa can do that better . . .

Talented Juniors Performed Before School

Different, humorous, and charming, are three words to express the feelings towards the junior class assembly. Chairmen Michele Bunker and Anne Johnston accumulated and directed the varied talents of junior class members with much skill to wish the Western student body a Happy Valentines Day From The Junior Class.

Narrator Gerald Earl, as Cupid, tied together the acts that included: A piano duet by Bill Moulten and Bruce Jones, a baton solo by Rosemary Burke, vocal solos by Jeanine Burton, Garry C. Waite, and Garry L. Waite, all these and many more were highlighted by a fashion show that was well directed and executed by Diane Abbey. Musical tones of the Off Shores entertained the audience throughout the assembly, that was wonderfully entertaining and amusing to both audience and cast.

George Hendricks ruled as King over the Hush Day Dance, his queen was picked later during the year. George was named Mr. Irresistible by the girls who couldn't keep from speaking to him, thus forfeiting their tickets.

All was not work for the band this year. They combined a Christmas party with trips to Reno for the State Football Game, and this Hush Day Dance to make this year a pleasant one.

Well, it's been a Big year - big fun, big problems (decisions?) anyway the fun was far greater and more important! There's not much point in writing how much I think of you and our relationship! Cause you already know, and I know it will stay this way for many years - at least I sure hope. Got lots of luck with every one you try for and here's hoping you get them. Keep all your (troubles?) straight and let me see if you need it (I think me likes it) (I need it), and I hope you get P, S, C, A, K, J - or whoever it is Now!

Acquainting members with the duties and qualifications a nurse must have was the main purpose of the Future Nurses Club. The president, Jacquay Hopper, impressed the significance of obtaining patience at their meetings. This year they shared experiences with other local clubs. On November 16 they toured hospitals and often saw nursing films. Many members planned to further their education of the medical field at Universities.

Constant enthusiasm and loyalty is necessary in backing a team. Energetic girls of Western High School's Pep Club provided this backing and showed their devotion by spending extra time and effort on projects to encourage student body interest. Pennants and booster ribbons were sold by Pep Club members to help raise school spirit. They co-ordinated with the cheerleaders on special routines using flash cards and fancy claps. Victory or defeat, these loyal Warrior-ettes were on the scene with fine cheers and proud smiles.

Gaining experience and knowledge in art and creating works of beauty and usefulness are the concerns of the Art Guild. The senior mosaic and posters for various school activities were planned and made by the organization under the direction of Mr. Jacobson. They also are responsible for the huge Western sign on the east side of the building. Art Guild members also sponsored a cartoon dance and made decorations for other dances. Much as last year, the Drama Club was very active. On November 11, they held a dance in the Little Theater. It was very successful as there was a large turn out. Later in the year, they were outstanding when they competed at a tournament at Reno. They also visited some of the showplaces downtown and were received graciously by the owners. The most successful part of the '63-'64 year was the production: "The Mouse That Roared."

Madame Mongeot and Madame Hop, advisors to the French Club, led students to a busy, eventful year. Many new activities came into being as well as those carried out by last year's group. French films with English subtitles were shown after school in the little theater. They were arranged for in advance by Nevada Southern University's Administration. Another activity was the sponsoring of a French conversation class held every Monday, seventh period.

Both of these were a success and helped to make an educational and fun-filled year for the largest club on the Western campus.

The Mardi Gras Ball, held on the twenty-fourth of March was the French Club's big moment and they made the most of it, as the Mardi Gras was one of the outstanding social events of the year.

Pins were presented to the new French Club members and emblems were given to second year members at the annual awards banquet which was held in May.

The royal game of chess possibly originated in 5000 B.C. and was introduced into Europe about 650 A.D. Today Western High School has a club devoted entirely to this age-old game. This thought-provoking competition enables each player to rule his own kingdom. He can plan strategies, manipulate armies, and direct the exacting movements of the "war". This game is spurred on by the conquering word "checkmate", meaning, "The King is dead."

The F.T.A.'s main goal is to prepare students with the knowledge of the problems they will face upon becoming a teacher. They gathered information by going to elementary schools for the opportunity of observing teaching methods and later to receive more instruction.

The club held meetings each week at which time skits, and films pertaining to teaching methods were presented.

A Roman banquet held this year in February highlighted the Latin Club's year. The event was done with a Roman flair consisting of vivid decorations, spicy foods and entertainment. Guest speakers and films during the year broadened classical horizons.

The aim of the Forum Latinum was to provide additional and more varied means of increasing student appreciation and understanding of Roman influence upon the modern world and their knowledge of the Latin language and classical culture.

In its first year, the National Honor Society has been one of the most active clubs on campus. Scholarships were presented to two graduating members. To raise the money needed for the scholarships, numerous fund-raising activities were conducted. Free tutoring was offered to students in all subjects, and to help the faculty, Society members handled corridor duty. Only the combined effort of the members and the hard-working advisors made the club able to accomplish so much.

Squirming snakes, striking scorpions and spinning spiders are the subjects Biology Club is able to explore. Studying these desert fancies leave the students in the dark about other environments and species. A solution to this problem was applied by capturing and mounting lizards, squirrels, and other sandloving specimens. The Biology Club then exchanged these with Everett Washington's High School Biology Club for sea animals or those animals which live in a moist niche. In this way both clubs benefitted by becoming more informed in the world of nature.

Homecoming Queen

Queen Linda Petri

On October 19, 1968, a lovely young lady representing Western High School was crowned our first Homecoming Queen.

Miss Linda Petri started a lifelong school tradition as the crown was placed upon her head. Linda, a very personable girl was, of course, thrilled by being chosen to represent her school in this capacity. However, this is not the first time Linda's charm and poise have been noted. In her junior year, she was elected Junior Prom attendant and reigned through a night of glorious splendor.

Linda has been a student at Western since her sophomore year and her charming personality has made her a key figure in campus life.

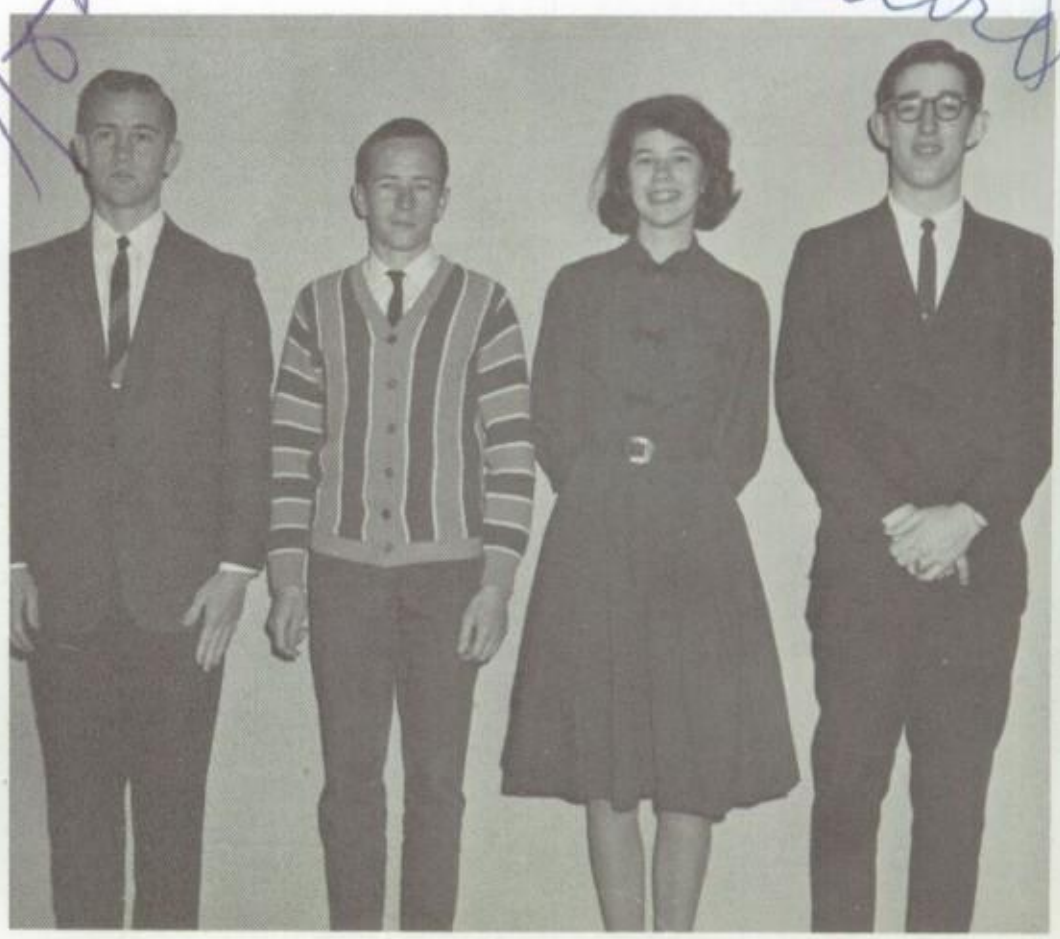
SUN YOUTH FORUM FINALISTS

After a day's discussion on controversial topics, three Western students were selected to represent their discussion groups at the annual Sun Youth Forum. Michael Jones (center) represented the group on Politics, while Mike Leavitt (right) and Roger Williams represented the two National Affairs panels. These three students are to be commended on their knowledge of current affairs and fine oratorical qualities.

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS

Ron Longhofer, Patrick Gafefy, Sue Kodras, and David LeSieur were the four Western students who scored high enough on the National Merit Qualifying Test to be named semi-finalists and who then scored high enough on the Scholastic Aptitude Test to reach Finalist standing. They, along with approximately 13,000 students throughout the country, will be put into a pool from which 1600 students will be drawn by interested organizations to receive scholarships.



Representatives of Western for State

GIRLS' STATE — Lynda Craner and Vicky Gans.

Outstanding students throughout Nevada were selected to attend Boys' State and Girls' State for a week during the summer of 1963. Sponsored by the American Legion, with financial help from various other civic organizations, these students became acquainted with the operation of democratic government on the local and state levels.

In addition, elections were held among the participants for various offices, put into operation what they had learned. Two boys and two girls were selected to represent Nevada at our nation's capital in Washington, D.C.

Boys' State was held at Stewart, Nevada; Girls' State was at the University of Nevada in Reno. Both traveled to the capital at Carson City, where it was their privilege to meet many state dignitaries.

Sweetheart Ball King and Queen

Susan Kodras, at the left, has rightfully earned the title of valedictorian of the class of '64. Sue was a welcome transfer to Western from Ohio in her junior year. She is a member in good standing and chairman of initiation of the National Honor Society and is also a member of Future Teachers of America. Sue also plays the flute in the Warrior band.

Sue has maintained an almost perfect straight "A" average throughout her high school career. Her high standards and achievements have contributed much to Western's year of progress and achievement.

Co-Valedictorians for 1964

The honor of valedictorian of the class of '64 was also earned by Vicky Gans.

Vicky is a very active participant at Western. She was selected senior class secretary and also held the same position in the National Honor Society. Vicky was a member of many campus organizations and in her senior year, she participated in Alpha Sigma Rho, the Election Committee, Traffic Safety Committee, and the Service Club.

Vicky's sparkling personality has made her a fine asset to Western and the senior class.

Swedish student Steve Clevhammar came to Las Vegas on a private exchange basis. Western's John Carlson spent the 1962-1963 school year in Stockholm, and Steve returned to live with the Carlsons the ensuing year.

Never has a student left such an impression on Western High. Although academically classified as a junior, Steve was given honorary membership in the senior class with all rights and privileges. He was made an honorary Student Council Representative, and his classmates honored him by selecting him for Sweetheart Ball King. Steve will be long remembered in the hearts of Western students.

Steve helped Lynn adjust her crown after they were honored as King and Queen of the Sweetheart Ball.

Co-Captains

Great is the key word to describe Western's football team this year. Highlights of the season included stunning victories over Gorman, Las Vegas, and Rancho High School. Through the leadership of co-captains, Sam Pizzo and George Kalb, and the guidance of coaches, Larry Fromhart, Del Foster, and Hubert Hawkins, the team captured its first Zone Championship for the school. The team then continued on to the State Championship Game, but despite their mighty effort, the team went down to defeat at the hands of the Reno Huskies.

Western students were not at all disappointed by their football team this year. A tremendous overall record was obtained, and much enthusiasm and skill was displayed by the team.

Warriors Go To State

Two big Huskies bring Ray Seay down in the Western-Reno State Champion contest.

Determination, skill, time, and effort led us to the Southern Zone AAA Conference Championship Crown. This achievement and progress enabled us to go to Reno, Nevada, for the State Championship Game. We met the Huskies of Reno on Saturday, November 16, and lost the tussel, 28 to 6. The action took place at Foster Field before an overflow crowd of 3000 persons.

Mike Slagel, a second-string halfback for Reno, literally wrecked Western with three touchdown runs plus chewing up dozens of yards rushing and making key tackles throughout the game. A 30 yard pass from Sam Pizzo to Dennis Daboll completed the Warriors' lone score.

J.V.'s on Warpath Toward New Achievement

W.H.S.'s Junior Varsity team was really on the warpath during their football season. They won five out of six games. Barstow was their only defeat and their victories were won by wide margins. Our J.V. boys did more for us than just fill a space in the athletic program; they were representatives of Western and, as was seen, they met this responsibility exceptionally well.

Coaches Roger Barnson and Hubert Hawkins prepared their boys to develop skills for future uses, perhaps as Varsity players.

On the field we had an outstanding line up with unusual offensive talent in Steve Hartman, Bernie Robinson, Wayne Spradling, Tom Rittman and Mac Stucki. Defensive standouts this season were: Gary Garrison, Butch Broder, Mac Stucki and Ken Carlson. They did a fine job and are on their road to greater achievements.

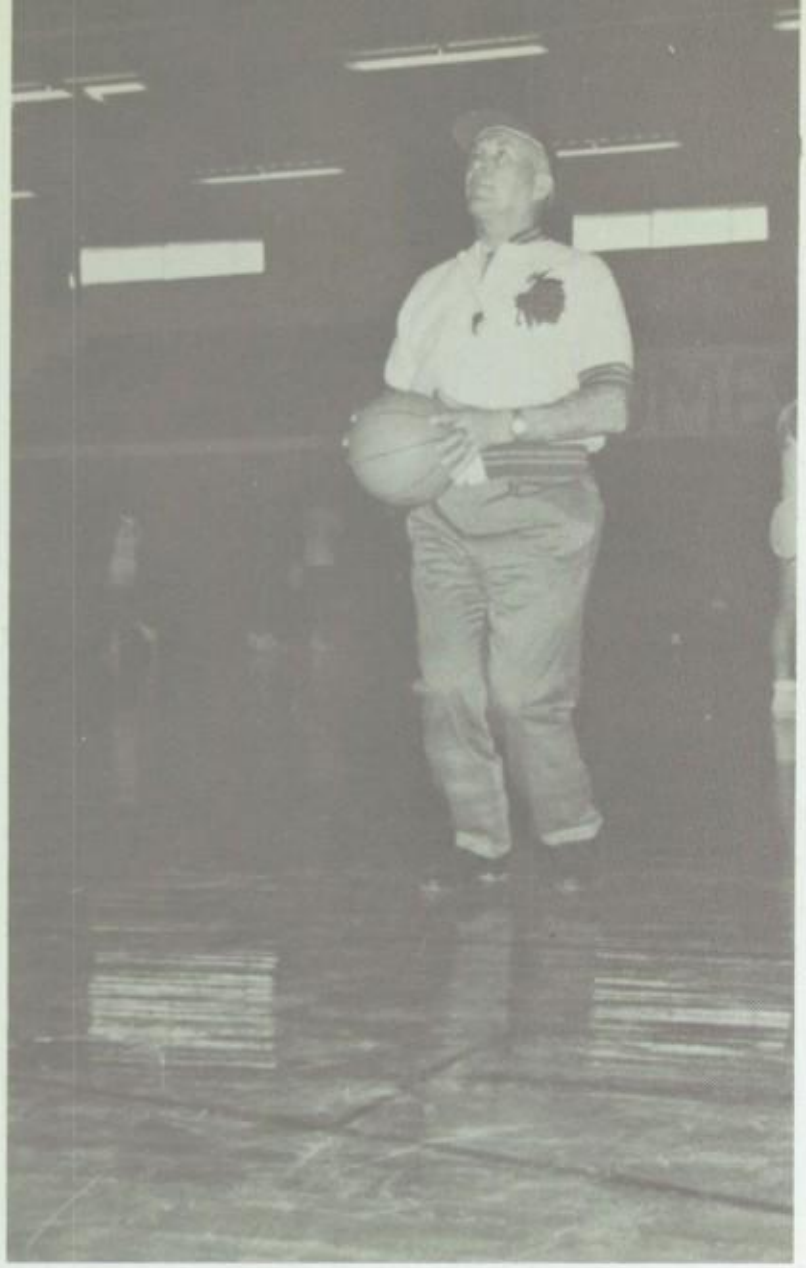
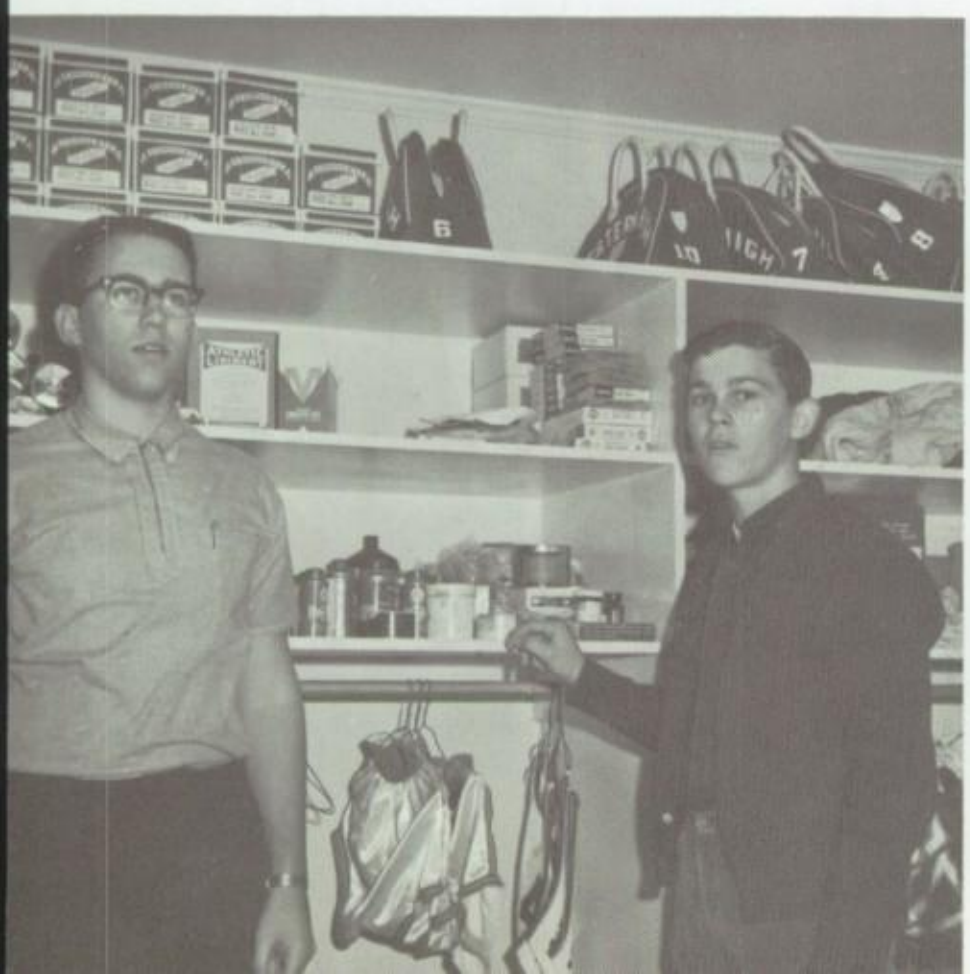
. . . With Excellent Leadership . . .



Malcolm Jones, Head Coach

Cordell Brown, Ass't. Coach



Bob Jones and Kevin Cameron, Managers

Western's head coach, Malcolm Jones, assisted by Cordell Brown, did an outstanding job of training and conditioning the basketball team this year. Their inspirational leadership and guidance has this year, as in our two years past, led the team to an extraordinary overall record.

The competition this season was hotter and heavier than ever before. Vegas, Rancho, Gorman, and Western battled on even terms during most of the season; but, as in the past, the Warriors were able to edge ahead of their rivals when the chips were down.

This year the team utilized the fast break and exceptionally accurate outside shooting to defeat their opponents. Skip Mead proved a consistent leader in both categories, aided much by the continuous hustle of Sam Pizzo, the quick movements of James Gordon and Dennis Daboll, and the accurate aim of Emmet Molisee. All this together made the Warriors a well balanced team that showed Western a great season, and, with much of its exceptional talent returning next year, the team promises to follow the winning tradition.

For the second straight year the Western Warriors captured the Southern Zone championship. Combining a blistering fast break and a stubborn defense, the Warriors rambled over the Las Vegas Wildcats and the Gorman Gaels to victory. Avenging an earlier season loss, the hot-shooting Warriors downed their first opponent, Las Vegas, 61-50. Gorman put up a determined effort but also fell victim to the Warriors, 53-51.

Western rooters cheer as Warriors defeat Reno

Western High School has established a fine tradition for her future basketball teams to live up to. Western has won the state AA basketball title two of the three years of the school's existence. This year's team had everything, height, speed, experience, and most of all, desire. Western gained sweet revenge in downing the Reno Huskies 59-52. The Gorman Gaels were defeated by a fine team effort, 66-55, as five Warriors hit in double figures.

J.V.'s Successful in '64

With fifteen wins and only three losses, Western's Junior Varsity basketball team finished the season with an impressive record.

Under the skilled coaching of Carroll Johnston, the J.V.'s went on to upset many major Junior Varsity teams in the area.

Coach Del Foster

The 1964 basketball season was the first to see Western High School fielding a team to compete in the Intramural League, under the able direction of Coach Del Foster.

Although this year's team achieved only modest success, it afforded its members invaluable experience in organized athletic competition.

The Varsity "B" team, as it was called well fulfilled its intended purpose — to create more places for students to compete in an organized sports program.

Western High School's wrestling team, directed by Coach Roger Barnson, progressed to much greater heights this year. The wrestlers did much to entertain spectators by performing during the halftimes at several basketball games.

This year Coach Barnson outlined a much better program by having many definite weight and class divisions for his group. This gave a great advantage to interested boys of all weights and ages.

On January 30th a round robin wrestling tournament was held to determine who would carry home the trophies. Winners were: Carl Wojciechowski, jr., 175 lbs.; Dennis Pribble, sr., 156 lbs.; Mark Wendelboe, sr. 145 lbs.; Howard Shaw, soph., 140 lbs.; Orlando Griego, jr., 134 lbs.; Mike Dehart, soph., 125 lbs.

'63 Baseball Team State Champs

1963 STATE CHAMPION BASEBALL TEAM

Climaxing a sensational 14-3 season, the 1963 Western Warriors baseball team picked off it's first State Championship by downing Hawthorne, 6-1, to sweep the series. The 1963 "Epitaph" had already gone to press at this time, but we are proud to be able to bring the student body's attention to the fine team effort and playing ability shown by the squad last spring in this year's book.

Under the skillful direction of Coach Glenn Mackie, the Western High School Warriors were led to a highly victorious season.

The defending State "AA" large school champions left a decided mark on their crosstown rivals, Vegas and Rancho, as well as their out-of-town opponents.

With returning lettermen Sam Pizzo, Dennis Daboll, Emmett Molisee, Ralph Diehl, Carl Wojciechowski, James Mathis, Tony Spano, Jim Gunier, Larry Mayhall, Joe Houston, and Brian Karn; Western had an experienced team that fought hard and came out on top.

Track season officially started March 11, 1964. The track team was led by Coach Cordell Brown and Assistant Coach Dean Funk. The 56 boys who reported out for track displayed a wide variety of individual talent. The first track meet was with Rancho High School March 24th.

Track events range from shot putting to the two-mile run. A few major events are: 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, the 440, 800 and mile runs. In addition the broad jump, high jump, pole vault and relay races add much variety to track.

Classes

Sara,

To think that you will be a senior next year makes my stomach churn. Don't that a pleasant thought? Of course everyone can make a mistake, even parent actually, I'm sure you will not hinder the progress of civilized man. Don't that a pleasant thought? after all, NHS members are the epitome of ~~the~~ adolescent society — at least those who can stay in the NHS are. Anyhow, good luck whenever NHS has a fund-raising drive and think of me and all the other hard-working members of the previous year.

The Senior Class of 1964 is to be commended for their fine participation and cooperation. All the Senior Class activities were carried out quite well. A large portion of the credit should go to Mrs. Joan B. Kettelhut and Mr. L. P. Louis, the Senior Class advisors. The Senior Class as a whole is deeply grateful for the wonderful support given by the Senior Class Counselor James Becker, and Vice Principal Angelo Collis for their guidance and help.

One of the unique Senior Class traits was their devoted unity. All clamored to aid in the various activities which include: a wild Senior Mixer, an inspiring Senior Assembly, a delicious Senior Dinner, a wet carwash, numerous after game dances, and an eventful Senior Recognition Day. However, the climax of the senior year was the beautiful Senior Ball, followed by an inspirational baccalaureate, and then graduation.

The class of 1965 began this school year with great enthusiasm and retained it throughout the year. This enthusiasm made Homecoming time a junior success as the class gained recognition from the entire student body after winning first place in float and bonfire competition.

Junior enthusiasm and organization produced an outstanding class assembly, and because of their outstanding spirit and participation in all assemblies the class of '65 won the coveted peace pipe, theirs to keep for the remainder of the year.

The Junior Prom proved to be the junior highlight of the year; the Sadie Hawkins dance will be remembered as a standout success also.

Class leadership and participation made the junior class truly outstanding. May they have continued success the coming year.

Sophomore Class Officers and Advisors

Mr. Jacobson and Miss Houston

The sophomores did much to show their school spirit this year by placing second in the Homecoming Float contest and the bonfire rally. They have given three tremendous dances that were climaxed by the annual Sweetheart Ball. The sophomores have also kept up their class planter, and aided to the appearance of the school by painting the goal posts. They have had many money raising drives, that include: a carwash, a bottletop drive, Christmas tree sales, and of course the Sophomore Class dues.

The sophomore assembly proved to be one of the best, by congregating all of their best talent to produce a great show.

The sophomores also supported their school during the State Championship Football Game, by chartering a bus and sending students to Reno to cheer the team on. The Sophomore Class was also well represented in the rooting sections for all our teams in other sports.

The sophomores as a class are now looking forward to a prosperous junior year and an even more successful senior year.

They Were a Bit Awed at First.

Sara,

It's been a ball in P.E. and I hope we have a class next year together. You're really sweet and a lot of fun.

Love,
Clera '65

Sara,
It's been knowing you this year. Hope we have a class together next year. Thanks for listening to all my problems. Have fun on the yearbook staff next year.
Love ya,
Joyce

Sara,
It's been a blast this year. Have fun this summer. "Best of Luck"

Sara - Our annual must look sick next to your fat one! Bye, you like it in Nevada. From the looks of these autographs you must. As ever,
Barb

Sara
To a real sweet girl with I have always admired true always,
Cindy

Sara:
it's a pity we couldn't get to know each other better this year, but although we couldn't, I really enjoyed seeing you a little (or a lot!) - I've always liked you + thought you were really sweet.
Love ya,
Sue Blakley

Sara:
I enjoyed having français avec vous Cette année. Hope to see you in next year. good luck
Love
